INTER-ISLAND HAPPENINGS

HILO, December 29.—The principal aim of the Hawaii agricultural station of the federal government in aiding and promoting small farming and an increased and more varied production is meeting with much success on the island of Hawaii, the two substations there, at Hilo and Glenwood, meeting with much cooperation and attaining good results.

What is probably the first actual scientific experimenting in the islands to better the commercial supply of taro is being carried on at Hilo and already much has been learned tending not only to increase the supply per acre but to increase its quality.

Taro is at present, and probably will be for some time, receiving the most attention from superintendent Clowes who directs the big island stations.
The different methods of propagation are being inquired into and the different sizes, ages, etc., at which the setting out should be done are being looked into.

Christmas Feasts.

Mrs. William Weight entertained a number of friends at Christmas dinner on Monday evening at her residence on School street. Covers were laid for twenty-four. The table, besides being loaded with good cheer, was very tastefully decorated with holly-berries and evergreens. A very enjoyable time was spent by those present, among whom were: Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Bains, Miss Nancy Danile, Miss Wilhelmina Weight, R. B. Park, "Bud" Foster, H. Edmund Burke, A. T. Foster, Mr. Tay, Mr. Nickson and Mr. A.
E. Weight.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Metzger lavishly entertained at dinner on Christmas at their beautiful home near where the growing breakwater reaches its long arm out into Hilo bay. Covers were laid for six and appropriate souvenirs of the happy season, bearing presentation cards cleverly inscribed, were welcomed by the appreciative guests.

Wants More of Hilo.

Alfred Butt, British tourist and naturalist, had intended leaving Hilo on the Mauna Kea, December 23, but stayed over for another steamer to allow time for further enjoyment of the attractions of the beach and countryside.

The Poor Remembered.

Santa Claus, the Salvation Army, the clergy, merchants and others of the city, on Monday last, working together, delighted a thousand small hearts in the armory with a monster Christmas tree, a thirty-footer from Olaa, smothered with toys.

It was Christmas day, in the afternoon, and Hawaiian music and a crowd announced the fact that joyousness was afoot. Captain Stiles of the Salvation Army was in charge of the distribution of candy, nuts, fruit and toys calculated to make glad the multitude of small fry assembled for the reception of gifts, not to mention the two hundred and more older folks gathered to see the fun.

After prayer and a song of praise, the distribution began, numerous kind-hearted folks assisting in the passing around of presents.

The children did not only come from Hilo, but from neighboring plantation villages and, as noted above, there were 1000 of them, though original plans were for but 700.

There were over 1000 presents, about 250 pounds of candy, 150 pounds of nuts and eighteen boxes of apples and oranges. Actual cash collected for the affair amounted to $132.15, while toys, candies, fruits and nuts contributed came to $82.85, making $215 in all. About $10 is still due on the expenses, an amount that will doubtless be made good very speedily.

Captain Stiles states that he met with no refusals in his endeavor to gather money and goods for the children's enjoyment. He believes the community is entitled to warm thanks and appreciation. The occasion was a glad success and is likely to be repeated next year.

Arthur Rice Hurt.

LIHUE, December 29.—Arthur Rice met with quite a painful accident last Friday while fishing. He had started for the shore when an unusually heavy breaker struck him in the back, throwing him against a rock, severely cutting his left leg below the knee.

Hanalei Items.

Lumber is coming in regularly every week for the new church and is being stored in the rear of the old church to protect it from the rains. Mr. C. E.
Haynes, contractor for the building of the church, came to Hanalei Friday and commenced work on it Monday.
The plans are worked out in every detail, and are so simple and plain that a child can understand them. They call for the building of a modern church, beautiful and artistic in every respect.

A more industrious set of youngsters than the second grade boys would be hard to find. Last week, after hoeing their garden all it would stand, they dug up little beds here and there outside of their garden in which to transplant their surplus of radish plants.

After that was done they would persist in watering their garden. Their vegetables are looking first-class, notwithstanding the heavy rains. The first garden planted is yielding a good supply of beans and radishes. The corn has done its best to keep pace with the beans—although it has been sick almost from the first—so that now, though scarcely a foot high, it has begun to tassle.

Maui Rubber Looks Good.

WAILUKU, December 29.—Dr. Wilcox is very enthusiastic over the Maui rubber situation, being personally interested through the experimental work of the station in the Hana rubber district. The latter is now cooperating with the rubber growers in attempting to raise the value of the production per acre by planting crops between the trees of the rubber plantation.

"There are some mighty interesting results being attained in rubber down there," said Dr. Wilcox, "and in the first place they have a mighty good grade of rubber to start with."

Manager W. A. Anderson of the Nahiku Rubber Company, after considerable experimentation, has succeeded in devising a method of tapping which is said to be one of the best yet introduced in the islands.
By it each laborer is able to gather five pounds of rubber a day, which Dr. Wilcox says is better than is done on the great Mexican rubber plantations at present. The device consists of a method of pricking by which the sap runs down to the base of the tree, the workmen gathering it in the morning at the same time as the new incisions are made in other parts of the tree.

Run through two mangles and through spraying processes which remove the dirt, it comes out in a clean white sheet of first grade rubber that speaks well for the success of the Maui plantations.

The central experimental station in Makiki is now engaged in making analysis of the Maui rubber, a work to which little attention has been paid heretofore.

The agricultural substation at Hana is working eagerly on such crops that can be successfully grown between the trees and attention has been devoted to awa, tobacco, broom corn, Indian corn and others.

Bananas do excellently between the trees, states Dr. Wilcox, but it will be little use in introducing them to the rubber plantations as an extra crop until the United Fruit Company "gets in" to the territory with its banana carrying facilities. At the present time there are little means of transporting the fruit to Honolulu for re-shipment to the mainland, as the inter-island boats have no conveniences for handling them and the fruit would, it is thought, be shaken to pieces.

Kula Farm Region.

Mr. J. Miguel is harvesting a fine crop of potatoes.

The farmers have been selling corn at $1.20 per cental until Mr. S. T.
Starrett arrived here to buy a large quantity. When the stranger inquired as to the price of corn, the farmers concluded that there must be a shortage of corn on the coast, and immediately raised the price to $1.35, and even at that price there is very little offered for sale. If Mr. Starrett will do nothing else for Kula this year he deserves at least the credit for boosting the price of corn.

Manuel Rego has bought the branch store of Cambria & Co., at Waiakoa.
V. Herron has resigned his position as manager of the Kula Sagatorium.
It is reported that Mr. Foster of the same institution will succeed him.

Presentation to Dr. Weymouth.

The vestrymen of the Church of the Good Shepherd met recently and the following resolution of appreciation was forwarded to Rev. Dr. Weymouth:
"At a meeting of the vestry of the Church of the Good Shepherd, held at the rectory in Wailuku yesterday afternoon, a motion was unanimously carried expressing the high regards of the vestry for your services at the church during the absence of the regular rector, Rev. Wm. Short, in the States last month, and as a small token of your services we, the undersigned rector, wardens, treasurer and other members of the vestry, desire you to accept the accompanying writing desk as a Christmas gift, though we appreciate its inadequacy, in recognition of the services rendered, and the ties of universal brotherhood existing between us."

Wm. Short, rector; J. N. S. Williams, treasurer; C. D. Luffin, warden; J. N.
K. Keola, clerk; Edmund H. Tart, member; L. M. Baldwin, member.

Masonic Installation.

The Masons held their annual installation of officers Wednesday evening last. Hugh Howell was installed the new master; W. W. Wescoat, senior warden; H. D. Sloggett, junior warden; E. R. Bains, senior deacon; W.
A. Clark, junior deacon; D. C. Lindsay, treasurer, and Ben Williams, secrotary.

County Finances.

The board of supervisors by resolution, have declared their estimate of the expenditure for salaries, payrols, public improvements, schools, public buildings and subsidies for the county of Maui for the ensuing fiscal year 1912, the totals of which are as follow:

General and Maintenance Fund—Personal and property taxes, available, $155,426; miscellaneous county receipts, $57,500; total estimated available, $212,926.

Special Funds—Permanent improvements, personal and property taxes, available, $50,093; road tax estimated, $24,000; school fund, $9000; hunting permits, $750; total, $83,843; total estimated available receipts for expenditure, $296,769; total estimated expenses 1912, $262,633; surplus of receipts over expenditure for 1912, $34,136.

Following is a recapitulation of estimated expenses for maintenance: Department of supervisors, $3200; department of county clerk, $14,537; department of finance, $8500; department of justice, $25,540; department of public health, $12,300; department of police, $51,060; department of public works, $55,960; subsidies, $4500; total, $178,790.

Personal and Social.

Mrs. McKay underwent a very serious operation in Honolulu last Wednesday. Her many friends in Wailuku and elsewhere were greatly relieved upon hearing that the operation had been entirely successful, though the patient is suffering a great deal. Judge McKay, in a letter to Mrs. V. A. Vettesen, writes that though they spent their Christmas in a hospital, they felt very happy, for Mrs. McKay received so many flowers, letters and other tokens of love and friendship that she almost forgot she was not in her home, but ill in a hospital.

Mrs. W. F. Mossman came down on the last Sierra from the Coast, where she went to see a daughter who was to undergo a serious operation which, we are glad to state, proved very successful. Mrs. Mossman spent Christmas with her two sons here in Wailuku.
She is anxious to rent a house and settle down here, but there is no house vacant. The same old story.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin H. Walker of Westboro, Mass., visited Rev. and Mrs. Dodge from Saturday until Tuesday. They are friends of Mrs. John E. Dodge of Westboro, and know Mr.
Dodge's father from the time he was a young man. Mr. and Mrs. Walker were charmed with Maui, and expressed a desire to know the island better. They spoke of Wailuku as an ideal place to live in. They are worldwide travelers, having, since Mr.

Walker's retirement ten years ago from the large boot and shoe manufacturing firm of Gold & Walker, spent a large amount of their time in visiting various places of interest all over the world.

Mr. D. D. Baldwin, the veteran school teacher, who celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his birth November 26, is to have a reunion of his family on New Year's Day. Five of his children will be present, viz.: Mrs. Frank Atwater, Mrs. D. B. Murdoch, Mrs. John Weddick, W. A.
Baldwin and L. M. Baldwin, and no less than twelve of his grandchildren.

To say that Mr. Baldwin looks exactly like he did when we first had the pleasure of meeting him, about twenty years ago, would be hyperbole, but as a matter of fact he carries his age marvelously well.

Samuel G. Wilder of Honolulu, with his young son, Sam Wilder, Jr., arrived in the Mauna Kea last Tuesday night and registered at the Maui.
The two Wilders are going up to the Cornwell ranch and will stay there about a week. Mr. Wilder is a fine shot, or at least used to be, and he hopes to bag some game while in the mountains.

Manager Simmon, of the Maui Hotel, went down to Honolulu last Friday night to spend the holidays with his family. As a Christmas gift he was presented with another grandchild.

Church Dedication.

The dedication of the new Union church edifice will be on Sunday, January 21 at Wailuku. The hour will probably be early enough to allow all those who come from a distance to return before dark. On Monday evening following the dedication Rev. Robert Elmer Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church in Honolulu, will lecture at the church upon "The Philosophy of the Hustler." This lecture of Mr. Smith's is full of humor, and was one of the most popular lectures in the states when Mr. Smith was on the lecture tour of the eastern part of the country.

Homestead Project.

The A. & B. interests are preparing to open about 600 acres adjoining the government's tract as soon as it can be surveyed. The land will be turned over to the government and a government surveyor is now at work on it.
There are already plans for another association to take it up immediately.
It will be opened on the same plans as the government's land.
